

LGBT Veterans, share your stories

1

Are you a veteran who identifies as gay, lesbian, bisexual, or transgender?

2

Have you had experiences with trauma?

3

Are you interested in sharing your story with other LGBT veterans and raising awareness?

This video project will explore LGBT Veterans' experiences with trauma, mental health issues, resilience and recovery. Participants will be trained in the basics of filming and have access to video equipment; no prior experience in video production is necessary.

We hope to raise awareness of these important issues, especially for people in the medical profession, the LGBT community, and other LGBT veterans who may have had similar experiences.

This project is a joint venture of the Stanford School of Medicine and the Veterans Affairs Palo Alto Healthcare System.

Call Heliana Ramirez at \(650\) 444-8586 for an eligibility screen, so you can learn more about the project and we can learn more about you!